

ARE TALKING WAR

It is Believed a Conflict Between Japan and Russia Can Not Long Be Delayed.

RISKS ON JAPS' SHIPS DECLINED.

The Russian Minister to Japan is to Have Another Conference With Foreign Minister Komura.

There is ill feeling in Russia Against the United States Owing to Their Supposed Sympathy For Japan.

Liverpool, Oct. 26.—Believing that war between Russia and Japan can not long be delayed, the marine underwriters decline to accept war risks on Japanese steamers even at the tempting price of 25 guineas per cent.

London, Oct. 26.—According to reports received here the conference held Saturday at Tokio between cabinet ministers and the elder statesmen of Japan did not result in any final decision. It is understood that Baron von Rosen, Russian minister to Japan, has received instructions from his government and was to have had another conference with Foreign Minister Komura Sunday. It is said that a majority of the Japanese elders favored adherence to the country's past policy, insisting that Russia should fulfill her pledges with regard to Manchuria on the ground that any compromise would only postpone and not avert a conflict.

Special dispatches from St. Petersburg represent a growing ill feeling in Russia against both England and the United States in consequence of the supposed sympathy of these countries for Japan. This feeling finds expression in the Novoe Vremya, which in commenting on the decision of the Alaska boundary tribunal, says it hopes that Canada will now sever the ties connecting it with Great Britain. The Oyan Novikr maintains a bellicose attitude, expressing the opinion that neither Great Britain nor the United States will interfere and Russia was never better prepared for war. This paper urges that Japan had better be crushed without delay.

NEW BRITISH AMBASSADOR.

Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, Now at Madrid, Has Been Selected.

London, Oct. 26.—Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador at Madrid, has been selected as British ambassador to the United States to succeed the late Sir Michael Herbert. The king will formally sign his commission Monday.

Extended sketches of Sir Henry Mortimer's career were published in the London papers Monday morning and satisfaction is expressed that such an accomplished diplomat, with his rich and varied experiences, should have been chosen for the Washington post.

The Standard says it supposes that Foreign Secretary Lansdowne has been guided in this choice by the personal knowledge he gained in India of the ambassador's qualifications and adds that the United States certainly could not complain that his majesty's government does not select the best talent at its disposal for Washington.

IRISH EMIGRATION.

John Redmond Says It is Time to Start a Campaign Against It.

London, Oct. 26.—Speaking at Kilbarney Sunday John Redmond, the Irish leader, declared the time had arrived to start a campaign against emigration. One cause of emigration that ought to be removed, he said, was the exaggerated prospect held out to Irish boys and girls if they went to America. He criticized Andrew Carnegie's recent speech at Waterford and said the poorest laborer in Kerry was happier than the majority of Irish workmen in the United States.

HIT FIVE TIMES.

A. N. Bentley Shot and Killed By B. N. Roller at Livingston.

Mt. Vernon, Ky., Oct. 26.—At Livingston, ten miles from here, B. N. Roller, master of trains of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, was shot and instantly killed by A. N. Bentley, master mechanic. There were no eye-witnesses to the tragedy and the first intimation was when Bentley surrendered himself to the town marshal. He claims self-defense. Bad feeling had existed between the two men because of disputes over clashes of authority for two years. They quarreled at the pumping station Sunday afternoon and Bentley went to the bath house, some distance away. Roller followed. Bentley claims that Roller drew a pistol and he took the pistol and shot Roller with it. Both men are prominent in railroad circles and have families.

Roller was 48 and Bentley 52. Roller was shot five times, three of which would have proved fatal. He was dead when assistance arrived. Bentley will be brought here to examining trial.

KNIVES WERE BUSY.

One Man Killed and Another Stabbed In An Election Quarrel.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Oct. 26.—In a difficulty over some land Davo Johnson fatally cut "Little Joe" Wilson. Wilson was wounded in several places, one cut being under the heart. Wilson lingered about ten hours and died Sunday morning. He was about 53 years old and leaves a wife and seven children. Johnson is a farmer about 40 years old. He claims self-defense. In a fight over the coming election in a saloon at Owingsville, Clint Hatton seriously cut John Fite with a knife. Hatton was released on $500 bond pending the result of Fite's injuries.

THE ELECTION MUDDLE.

Dr. Godfrey Hunter Contest Case Before the Court of Appeals.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 26.—Judge Settle, of the Kentucky court of appeals, will Monday hear a motion to dissolve a temporary restraining order granted by the Knox circuit court restraining the county clerks of the counties of the Eleventh congressional district from placing the name of Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter on the ballot as the nominee of the republican party to succeed the late Congressman Vincent Boring. Hunter's contention is that the courts have no jurisdiction to interfere in this purely political matter.

Forest Fire Raging.

Covington, Ky., Oct. 26.—At a late hour Sunday night a forest fire, covering an area of a square mile, was raging in the Kentucky hills, near Bellevue. All the farmers of the neighborhood were at work checking the progress of the fire to prevent it from reaching the farm buildings.

Whitesburg, Ky., Oct. 26.—One of the most destructive fires that ever visited this town occurred when S. T. Frazier's dwelling, the Presbyterian church and the schoolhouse were burned. The fire started in Frazier's dwelling and could not be checked. The loss will exceed $5,000, with no insurance.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 26.—Reports from the Kentucky and Tennessee oil fields show a week of light activity, so far as field work is concerned. The recent advances in the price of crude product, while having its effect in stimulating drilling, has not yet been instrumental in increasing the runs.

A DOUBLE MURDER

Farm Hand Killed His Two Little Sons Leaving Their Bodies in a Fence Corner.

GAVE HIMSELF UP TO OFFICERS.

A Mob Formed and the Prisoner Was Secreted by the Authorities For Fear of Violence.

The Man Says He Killed the Children Because His Wife Had Left Him and Refused to See Him.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 26.—Jesse McClure, a farm hand, murdered his two sons, aged 5 and 7 years, Sunday afternoon, leaving their bodies in a fence corner. While a mob was forming to capture and lynch him, McClure drove on a run to this city and gave himself up. He has been secreted by the authorities who fear attempted violence.

McClure lived near Frankton and had separated from his wife a year ago, she refusing to live with him and returning with her children to her father's home.

At noon Sunday McClure hired a rig at Elwood and drove to the Kilgore farm, the owner being Mrs. McClure's father. He found the children playing in the front yard and induced them with candy to take a ride with him. He drove a mile up the road, carried the children to a fence corner and shot them with a revolver. The older one was found dead a few minutes later and the younger was dying, a piece of the candy being still in his mouth. McClure fled and was pursued by a crowd of young farmers bent on deadly vengeance. The alarm was given and from all surrounding towns armed pursuers started. McClure succeeded in reaching the jail here without being stopped and the authorities have hidden him away.

To the jail turnkey McClure admitted the murder of his two children, and said he had killed them because his wife had left him and refused to see him. Said he:

"When she refused to see me I decided to be revenged and drove down the road to a little clump of small trees. My two children were asleep in the buggy. When I stopped the jolt awoke my little boy, Dee. He looked up to me and said: 'Papa, what are you going to do?'

"I put my hand over his eyes and took my gun from my pocket and shot him in the forehead, killing him instantly. The shot awoke little Homer and I took him by the shoulder and fired a shot into his head. They both fell to the bottom of the buggy. I drove the horse to the side of the road and lifted both bodies out and laid them on the withered grass. I then drove directly to Marion to the jail and am here to give myself up.

"The neighbors will lynch me when they find out what I have done. I do not care what you do with me. I am ready to die and expect to hang for this crime. All that I ask is to see my dear little ones buried."

Late Sunday evening it was learned that a mob was being formed to come to Marion Sunday night and lynch McClure. Deputy Sheriff Williams spirited the murderer away from the jail and started with him to Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26.—Jesse McClure was brought here at 10 o'clock and placed in jail. He made a second confession of his crime, repeating the statements he had made to the turnkey at the Marion jail.

MOTHER'S TERRIBLE DEED.

Murdered Her Three Children and Attempted the Life of the Fourth.

Monterey, Cal., Oct. 26.—While temporarily deranged, Mrs. Louis Iverson, wife of a Salinas machinist, murdered three of her children at Pacific Grove at the dictation, she said later, of a supreme power. She first strangled her eldest daughter Louisa, 12. She then attempted the life of her eldest son, 11, but he boy broke away from her and took a train for his home in Salinas. She then strangled her son Harold, 6, and securing an ax struck him a blow on the head. Later in the evening she killed her 7-months-old baby Maria by strangling.

The murder of her children was related by Mrs. Iverson to Sheriff Nesbitt Sunday.

The boy who escaped reported to his father that the eldest girl was ill and had been lying on the bed, but said nothing of his mother's attack on him. The father telephoned to a Pacific Grove physician to call at the house and see the child. The doctor did so and was met at the door by Mrs. Iverson who said there was no one sick in the house.

Early Sunday morning Mr. Iverson himself drove to Pacific Grove. He knocked at the front door of the cottage where his wife and family had been living and was told to go around to the back door.

He did so, and entering the house was about to kiss his wife when she said: "Don't touch me. Don't put your hands on me. Go and look at your children."

With that he opened the door of the adjoining room where lay the bodies of the three children, the boy on one bed and the two girls on another. The house was in disorder and indications were plentiful that the two older children had struggled hard against their death. Mrs. Iverson had been ill for several months and had shown signs of mental derangement.

RUNAWAY ELECTRIC CAR.

One Man Killed, a House Demolished and the Car Splintered.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 26.—A runaway electric car on the Chicago and Joliet line Sunday killed a man, demolished a house and reduced itself to splinters after a terrific plunge down a steep incline in this city.

Just as the car began to descend the steep hill Motorman Bouray fell in a faint and rolled from the platform. Miss Anna Westborg, the solitary passenger saw her peril and jumped from the car, escaping with some painful bruises. The car bounded forward, going down the hill at terrific speed.

At the foot of the hill, where there is a sharp curve, Peter Sharp, 18, was waiting for the car. He had not noticed that it was running away. When the car struck the curve it jumped the track, scooping up young Sharp on the fender and crashed into Charles Hollsten's dwelling. Sharp's brains were battered out against the stone foundation. The side walls of the house were crushed in and the entire structure wrecked. Mrs. Hollsten was alone in the house at the time and escaped without injury, climbing out through a window.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Prof. Robert H. Thurston, of Cornell University, Passes Away.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Prof. Robert H. Thurston, director of the Sibley college of engineering, Cornell university, died suddenly Sunday night at his home on the campus. He was sitting in his library shortly before 6 o'clock, awaiting the arrival of former President Andrew D. White, Dean Huffcut, of the college of law, Prof. Hewitt and others who were to be his guests at dinner, Sunday being his 64th birthday. He seemed to fall asleep but when his wife made efforts to rouse him she found him unconscious and he died before a physician could be summoned. Heart disease was the cause of death. He had been in apparent good health and spirits and had just returned from a brisk walk.

FOUR MEN DROWNED.

Three From the Transport Kilpatrick and a Portland Man.

Portland, Me., Oct. 26.—Three men from the United States transport Kilpatrick, and a Portland man, were drowned in the outer harbor Saturday night. The victims were a sergeant of one of the companies on board the ship, the captain's cabin boy, a ship's carpenter and Fred Staniford, of this city. The names of the Kilpatrick's men could not be learned. The small boat in which they took passage took water and sank almost immediately.

FIVE COTTAGES BURNED.

Many Thousands of Dollars Lost With No Insurance.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 26.—But for the heroic work of the crews from three life saving stations, the entire summer resort of Virginia Beach, with its two large hotels and half a hundred or more costly homes, would Sunday night probably be a mass of charred timber and ashes. As it is five handsome cottages are destroyed and many thousand dollars lost with no insurance.

New Buildings at Cornell University.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 26.—The board of trustees of Cornell university has decided to begin work on the new Rockefeller hall of physics and the new Goldwin Smith hall of languages as soon as ground can be broken in the spring. Each building will cost $250,000.

TEN WERE KILLED.

The Roof and Walls of a Subway Tunnel in New York Caved In.

FOUR OTHERS BADLY INJURED.

The Men Men Were at Work in the Tunnel Which is About 110 Feet Below the Surface

Superintendent Hunt and General Foreman Beyers Were Arrested and Placed Under $10,000 Bail Each For a Hearing.

New York, Oct. 26.—Ten lives were lost by the cave-in of the roof and walls of the subway tunnel at 195th street, and four persons were badly injured. All of the dead and injured were workmen, and most of them Italians.

At the point where the cave-in occurred a gang of 20 men were at work in the tunnel, which is about 110 feet below the surface. Rufus C. Hunt, general superintendent of the tunnel work, said Sunday that two converging seams had appeared in the roof of the tunnel during the day work on Saturday. The presence of these seams, however, was not believed to indicate any more dangerous character of the rock than had previously been encountered, although it was thought necessary to prop the roof with a number of upright timber braces.

The tunnel was being bored by opening a perpendicular embrasure in the face of the bore, and blasting the sides to the right and left of this embrasure. Three blasts were arranged by the drillers, the holes being charged well toward the roof. The drillers then withdrew and the three blasts were set off in rapid succession by electricity, loosening large quantities of earth and rock. The drillers say that about ten minutes elapsed to allow the smoke to clear away before Timothy Sullivan, the foreman, and Electrician Sochnett advanced, the latter intending to strike wires and hang electric lamps to light the way. They were followed by sixteen workmen. The vanguard of the gang had reached the broken stone when a rumbling sound was heard. It was great in volume with lightning-like rapidity. Those in the rear had just time to turn about and run when, with a deafening crash, hundreds of tons of rock fell on the men at the face of the boring.

The drillers and two or three Italians who were out of reach of the deluge of rock were knocked flat on their faces by the rush of wind through the tunnel.

When the roar had ceased the cries of injured workmen echoed through the tunnel. Two Negroes, in charge of a tram car which they were pushing along the track to be loaded with the blasted rock, rushed to the opening at 200th street and to the Speedway River station, a block away, and there telephoned on alarm to police headquarters. Reserves were immediately ordered to the scene, while ambulances were sent from several hospitals.

Rufus C. Hunt, superintendent, and Richard Beyers, general foreman for John B. McDonald, the contractor who is building the tunnel, were arrested as soon as they reached the scene of the disaster, but both experts in tunnel work and blasting were permitted to direct the work of rescue. Later, a magistrate remanded them to the coroner, who held them in $10,000 bail each.

Coroner Jackson said he believed the accident was caused by criminal negligence. The seams which appeared Sunday are believed to have been about the great rock which fell directly in the center of the excavation. As soon as this boulder, acting as a keystone, was released, the stones on both sides which had been crushed loose followed it. The fall of stone continued some minutes until all the dislodged pieces had fallen into the tunnel.

From men who worked in the tunnel it was learned that props had been used to hold up the roof. The heavy timbers, 12x12 inches, were crumpled like toothpicks beneath the tremendous weight of the cave-in.

The Shores Block Burned.

Ashland, Wis., Oct. 26.—The loss in the burning of the Shores block early Sunday morning will foot up to the neighborhood of $150,000, with not $30,000 of insurance. There were 150 roomers in the building at the time of the fire, but all escaped with their lives.

REMEMBER NOV. 3d will be election day.

Vote the Democratic ticket and for the Constitutional amendment.

Vote early and see that your neighbor does not neglect this very important duty.

The Democratic ticket is composed of honorable and capable men, who are worthy and should receive the support of all good citizens.

There has never been a time when it was more important that Democrats should exert themselves to secure the election of every candidate on their ticket.

It is the duty of every Democrat to go to the polls Tuesday, November 3rd, and cast his vote for the State ticket, Harbison, Slattery, Bruce, Woodward, McKnight and the Constitutional amendment.

Democrats should not only work zealously but systematically. Thorough organization means a full vote and that is what the Executive Committee and every individual Democrat should strive for in the approaching contest.

There was an odious Republican "Machine" in absolute control of affairs in Indianapolis; and at the recent municipal election the decent Republicans joined with the decent Democrats in "knocking it out." It remains to be seen if the decent Democrats of Kentucky will unite with the decent Republicans in "busting" the obnoxious Machine at Frankfort.—Public Ledger.

Now please tell us who it was that nominated the present Republican State ticket, if it wasn't the crowd of Sapp "gangsters" in Louisville, one of the most odious rings in existence according to Ex-Governor Bradley.

THE KENTUCKY JUDICIARY.

One of the largest Democratic meetings of the present campaign was held in Louisville October 20th. The chief speakers were Jos. T. O'Neal and Alexander P. Humphrey, two of the most prominent lawyers of that city. Both came out unqualifiedly in declaring their confidence in the purity of Kentucky's judiciary. Said Mr. O'Neal:—

"They make the charge that the judiciary of the State is partisan. That life, liberty and property in Kentucky are not safe because of a partisan judiciary. Even the Republican party ought to be ashamed of this slander, yet it is incorporated in both the State and local platform. The speakers refer especially to the court in which those charged with the murder of Mr. Goebel have been indicted. I have no word of comment as to the guilt or innocence of any of these men. I leave them to be judged by their peers when called to answer at the bar of justice. But I am in a position to know that the court referred to has been and is being outrageously libeled. It fell to my lot to defend one of the men charged with this crime. Through a long and hard fought trial the prisoner and his counsel were shown every reasonable and proper courtesy by the distinguished Judge who presided at the trial, by the counsel for the State and by all the officers of the law in charge of the trial, and on all questions the rulings of the Judge were just and impartial. Before the fate of the prisoner was known I publicly in open court declared the defendant had been given a fair trial on the merits of his case. He was promptly acquitted by the jury because he was innocent of the crime charged. Another Republican charged with the same crime was brought to trial in the same court and was promptly acquitted by the jury, who believed him innocent. In another case in the same court learned counsel for the defendant reserved over 800 exceptions to the rulings of the court, and a Republican Court of Appeals, not as a partisan court, but in the honest discharge of their duty, found only three errors out of 800 claimed. This is a record that any Judge, even a Mansfield or Kent might be proud of.

"Think fellow citizens, of a party claiming and pretending to be law-abiding taking under its protection men charged by the solemn oath and juried with the foul crime of murder! That party has shamelessly and distinctly committed itself to the protection of these men whether they be guilty or innocent, and boldly ask the people of Kentucky to clothe it with power to stay the hands of justice. Mr. Belknap may now think it good policy to say he will judge of these cases as they come to him, but when he publicly declares that convictions are being secured on perjured evidence and partisan rulings of the court, he unequivocally commits himself to their protection and adopts the prudent policy of Mr. Taylor to take no chances and grant pardons as the proper solution of the questions. The Good Book says, 'The guilty flee when no man pursueth.' By the laws of Kentucky when these men fled her borders they testified to their own guilt, and when the time comes, as it must come, when these men, like the humblest citizen of the State, must face this charge, their own hurried and cowardly flight will be a trumpet-tongued witness against them."

In reference to same subject Judge Humphrey said:

The part of the ticket to which I desire especially to address myself is that which embraces the nomination for Judges upon our local bench. In the local Republican platform it is stated substantially that our security rests upon a judiciary which will not be controlled in its judgments by partisan considerations. I have been a practicing lawyer at this bar for very many years, and have been led by my experience and what I have learned to believe that our bench is singularly free from any such influences. That cases have been decided which indicate this partisan bias I have not heard. It may be that this is meant to be a general charge against the judiciary of the State. We have had in the last few years many cases before the Court of Appeals involving political questions. So far as these concern contests for office, I do not believe that any one will say that this court has divided politically, or has rendered judgments along political lines of difference. There were, it is true, a number of cases which grew out of the contests made over the offices filled at the State election of 1899. During a part of the time the court numbered four Democrats and three Republicans, and another part four Republicans and three Democrats. And it is true, that generally speaking, the members of the court divided upon strict political lines. In one case, that of Taylor against Beckham, four Democrats and two Republicans voted to affirm the judgment in favor of Gov. Beckham. Only one Judge—a Republican—dissented. In all this I see no ground for a charge of partisanship that does not apply equally to the Judge holding the one or the other political faith.

There is another class of cases growing out of the assassination of William Goebel—an event which, in my judgment, was more disastrous to the good name and the peace and order of Kentucky than any event which has ever occurred in its history. James Howard has twice appealed to the Court of Appeals from judgments of conviction. Upon the first appeal the court standing four Republicans and three Democrats, voted unanimously to reverse the conviction; upon the second appeal, the court still standing four Republicans and three Democrats, voted—four for reversal and three for affirmance. In the case of Caleb Powers there have been also two appeals heard and determined in the Court of Appeals. Upon both of these appeals the court stood four Republicans for reversal and three Democrats for affirmance. The last judgment for reversal passed by a majority of one Republican and was handed down December 2, 1902. In the November preceding Judge Barker had been elected over Judge Durbelle and took his seat at the meeting of the court in January, 1903. This made the court four Democrats to three Republicans. A petition for rehearing was filed by the Commonwealth. It was held unanimously by the court that it could not be entertained.

Again, the court had decided, by a vote of four Republicans to three Democrats, that under the circumstances the Judge who tried the case at the Circuit should have vacated the bench upon the affidavit filed by the accused. When the case was called for trial in May of 1903, this Judge, entertaining the view that an opinion in a criminal case, unlike that in a civil case, was not binding upon the Appellate Court, declined to vacate the bench. Thereupon a proceeding was taken before the Court of Appeals to test this question, the court decided unanimously—there being four Democrats on the bench and three Republicans—that the opinion delivered by a bare majority of the court was binding upon the whole court.

Damon and Pythias.

The Ironton (O) Irontonal of Oct. 20th, says:

"Damon and Pythias" presented at the Masonic Monday night under the auspices of Arnold Company, Uniform Rank, K. of P., was attended by a large and representative audience. The old story was told by very clever people. Mr. Edward S. McKim as Damon, Frank Henning as Pythias and Marguerite Calla as Calanthe, were exceptionally clever and gave very good interpretations of their roles. The company is not strong numerically, but the individual strength of the leaders overbalanced this. The piece is well staged and mounted and in its entirety was pleasing.

At the opera house Tuesday, October 27th, under the auspices of Limestone Lodge No. 36, Knights of Pythias. Seats on sale at Ray's drug store.

In affirming Judge Harbison's decision in the case of Mastin against Cochran's executor, the Court of Appeals says:

Where a note, executed at a time when the 8 per cent. interest law was in force, provided for the semi-annual payment of interest "at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum from this date until paid," no time being fixed for the payment of the principal, the note fixed the rate of interest and the date from which it should run, and the contention of the obligor that it bore interest only from the date of demand of payment is not tenable; the semi-annual installments of interest bore interest from the date they were respectively due.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

One of Mayslick's Good Women Passed Away Saturday—Mrs. Mary Hawes
Dies at Louisville—Others
Answer Final Summons.

Mrs. Frances M. Chinn, widow of the late Rolla Drake Chinn, died Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at her home in Mayslick. She had been a greater sufferer for twenty years from rheumatism, and for fifteen years had been almost helpless as a result of this disease. A consecrated and devout Christian, this good woman endured her prolonged sufferings with remarkable patience and fortitude, and ever had a pleasant smile and a word of encouragement for those about her.

Mrs. Chinn was a daughter of Edward and Jane (Kercheval) Groves, and was seventy-two years old in September. She was born in the community where her life was spent. Her husband died eleven years ago. One daughter, Miss Lizzie Chinn, survives. She leaves quite a large circle of relatives in this city and county.

The funeral took place this morning at 10 o'clock at Mayslick Christian Church, Rev. R. M. Giddens officiating. Interment in Mayslick Cemetery.

MRS. MARY HAWES.

A telegram Sunday brought news of the death of Mrs. Mary Hawes, widow of the late J. B. Hawes of Minerva. She died at St. Joseph's Infirmary, Louisville, as the result of an operation for gallstones.

Mrs. Hawes was sixty-three years of age and had been making her home with two of her sons in Louisville the last few years. Her maiden name was Haley, and most of her life was spent at Minerva. Surviving are ten children, five sons and five daughters, and one step-son, the latter being County Assessor Wm. Hawes of this city.

The remains are expected here to-day, and the funeral will take place at Minerva, some time Tuesday probably, but the date has not been announced.

MRS. SARAH BILTZ.

Brief mention was made in Saturday's issue of the death of Mrs. Sarah Biltz, of Newport. It occurred early Saturday morning at Seton Hospital, and was the result of a delicate surgical operation. Mrs. Biltz was the wife of ex-Mayor Edward Biltz, of Newport, and was a sister of Messrs. J. C. Peter and Fred Miller and Mrs. Lizzie Mendell, of this city. She was fifty-two years old and leaves five sons and one daughter. The funeral takes place Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Taylor Street M. E. Church, South, Newport, the interment following in Evergreen Cemetery.

MRS. JOSEPH SMITH.

Mrs. Mamie Smith, wife of Mr. Joseph Smith, died Saturday morning at her home on East Fifth street. She was twenty-one years old and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Tolle, of Aberdeen. The funeral took place this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's Church.

MRS. NANCY D. HICKS.

Mrs. Nancy D. Hicks, mother of Mrs. Frank Jones, of Second street, Sixth ward, died Saturday evening at the latter's home, at the advanced age of ninety-six years. The funeral takes place this afternoon at 1 o'clock at Aberdeen, the interment following in Charter Oak Cemetery. Mrs. Hicks is survived by four sons and three daughters.

The funeral of the late C. T. West took place this morning at 11 o'clock at Casto Church, Nicholas County. The burial will be in Carlisle Cemetery.

Mr. George W. Riffe, of West Union, was in Maysville Friday and recovered the memorandum book lost circus day. It was found by Mr. Mose Hull, of the East End, who was paid $10 reward by Mr. Riffe.

Col. John B. Chenault was the guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. John C. Everett, Friday. Col. Chenault says, in speaking of the campaign, says: "I think we will go to Louisville with from 8,000 to 10,000 majority, and we expect to get at least 3,000 majority in Louisville. Larger claims have been made, but I think I am speaking conservatively when I say the majority in the entire State will be at least 15,000. There is no questioning the fact that Beckham is growing stronger every day. His speeches throughout the State have made a wonderful impression on the people, and I am of the opinion the majority of Democrats will vote for him."

An Open Fireplace Has Charms

Which no one will question. The blazing wood, the crackling logs, carry us back to the way our ancestors spent their winter evenings. But the wide stone hearths and bare floors are no more. The carpet and comfortable rugs before the modern fireplace now are a source of danger as well as comfort. If you are fortunate enough to have a fireplace, get all the pleasure from it you can, but don't run the risk of a fire. If there are children, more is the reason why you should be careful. THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

It Will Not Change Law as to Limit of Debt or Tax But Is Intended to Regulate Mode of Taxation.

Mr. Editor: The amendment to the constitution to be voted on in November does not change the present law as to the limit of debt or tax that can be incurred by cities and towns. It simply gives the Legislature the power to pass a general law by which cities may regulate the mode of taxation. At present the Assessors of cities are confined to the ad valorem system, that is, they ask the citizen as to the value of his personal estate, and the assessment is made at that value. If the amendment carries, the cities, if they so desire, can tax personal property, based on its income, can tax trades, occupations and professions by license tax, and can have a tax on franchise. There can be no double taxation, but the taxing powers can vary the mode and manner of taxation, adjusting the taxes so as to be equal and just, and at the same time prevent transient business enterprises from dropping into our cities between the taxing season, picking up the cream of the business from our permanent merchants and tax payers and then departing without contributing anything to the general welfare.

It will also enable our cities to encourage capital and manufacturing to locate within their limits by exempting them from city taxation, provided they will expend certain sums and give employment to a certain number of men. No State in the Union has such a system of taxation as Kentucky save Ohio, after which our system was patterned, but Ohio votes on an amendment to repeal that system in November next, having seen the ill effects of same.

"At first blush" it seems unfair to tax the house and lot of the workman and exempt the big plant of the manufacturer, but in many of our cities how will the workman ever obtain a house and lot unless he has constant work in a manufactory?

How are Kentucky cities to get these factories unless we exempt them from city taxes, as Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania cities do?

How much better off would Maysville be if we could induce manufacturers to locate here and give employment to our sons and daughters? Give a market for all the produce that Mason County farmers can raise. How many families in Maysville and Mason County have grown children around them? Why do they have to send them East and West for employment? Simply because we have no manufacturing and can offer no inducements for their location in our city.

Vote for the amendment and give our cities a chance to compete with cities of other States.

Committeeman Ninth District.
